On motion of Trustee Grist it was ordered that bids for material for public service department be opened.

In connection with this communication the city manager stated that there is an accumulation of sand on the street and that undoubtedly there is considerable work on the streets in the canon, which it is desirable to have done, but that already considerable money has been spent in the Verdugo canon for purposes that seem to be the most necessary, considering the limited amount of money available. Trustee Woodberry explained conditions in Verdugo canon, expressing the opinion that they should be remedied by the board as soon as it was practicable to do so. On motion of Trustee Muhleman the communication was ordered to be filed.

An application was presented by John H. Fanset for permit to establish a dry cleaning plant on the rear of lots at 1106-08 W. Broadway. The city manager made a report in regard to the laying of gas pipe to Stanley avenue to the effect that the gas company has promised to have the work done within a week.

The city manager presented a report which had been prepared on delinquent taxes, showing the total amount due to date including accrued interest and penalties to be $5226.42, not including the assessment of 1916-17.

On motion of Trustee Muhleman the tax collector was instructed to give notice to all owners of property whose names appear in the delinquent list as far as the same can be ascertained, of the fact of delinquency, the amount including penalties and the date upon which deed will be issued.

On motion of Trustee Grist ordinance number 302, "An Ordinance of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale establishing the grade on a portion of Elrose avenue and Grand View avenue in said city" was ordered to be taken up for third and final reading and upon being read, was on motion of Trustee Grist, adopted.

AT GLENDALE HIGH

STUDENTS PLAN TO SUPPORT CIVIC CENTER—TRACK STARTED

The Civic Center campaign was started in motion yesterday at a student body meeting in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Charles E. Hutchison and Dr. Jessie A. Russell were the principal speakers.

"We have never had a failure in a bond election in Glendale in which the boys and girls had a shoulder at the wheel," said Dr. Russell. "The boys and girls of our high school are the future citizens of our beautiful city." She declared that Glendale needs a swimming pool and that our young people are entitled to one. A civic center, she said, would chiefly benefit the young people, and the young people should help in the fight which is coming. She predicted that there would be opposition to the project as there is to every improvement, but that earnest work would win the day.

Mrs. Hutchinson said, "Last year when I was elected president of the Parent-Teacher Federation I pledged to get a swimming pool for Glendale or die in the attempt. I appeal to you to save my life." When Mrs. Hutchinson asked for an indication of the sentiment of the students the auditorium echoed and re-echoed with cheers. The entire student body, led by the Juniors, showed plainly that they favor progress in civic matters. Mr. Moyle reviewed past campaigns in which necessary improvements were instituted only by the work of the young people. The students were urged to be present at the stereopticon lecture by Rev. Dana Bartlett Friday evening in the school auditorium.

Howard Stickney, '16, visited school Thursday. Howard is now a student in U. S. C. law school.

Track tryouts for the meet with South Pasadena were held Thursday evening. Several "dark horses" placed on the school team.

The defeat of South Pasadena in basketball Wednesday has given our first team added courage. They plan to beat Harvard tomorrow by a big score. Dan Hagin declared in assembly yesterday that Harvard was a rough team, so our boys will need support.

Yesterday's "Explosion" announced that Mildred Wight is leading in the beauty contest. A dozen other contestants are vying for first place.

South Pasadena and not Harvard was defeated Wednesday by the high school basketball team. The Glendale-Harvard game will be played tomorrow.

QUOT PITCHING RECORDS

Scores on the grounds of the Glendale Horseshoe club are showing some wonderful results of late. In a game on Wednesday in a series of five games Mr. Porter scored 53 points with 35 ringers; Mr. Head scored 36 points with 39 ringers; Mr. Pettit scored 54 points with 42 ringers and Mr. Blatchley scored 55 points with 36 ringers. This record of ringers is unusual. A total of 152 in one series is going some.

department presented his report on the bids referred to him for the furnishing of wire, poles, water pipe and fittings recommending the acceptance of the bid of the United States Steel Products company for six thousand pounds of No 4 wire, $34.38 per hundred; of the Keystone Iron Works on cast iron water pipe fittings at a total of $252.27, and of the Fox Woodsum Lumber company for the delivery of poles in accordance with their bid.

On motion of Trustee Grist, the recommendation of the manager of the public service department was adopted and the awards ordered to be made in accordance therewith.

The city engineer reported progress in preparing profiles and grades in the recently annexed territory, and also that the assessments for the opening and widening of Seventh street are coming in satisfactorily.

On motion of Trustee Grist, "An Ordinance of the City of Glendale regulating the use of Canada boulevard" was taken up for first reading. On motion, this ordinance was declared read for the first time and was taken up for the second reading. On motion, this ordinance was declared read for the second time and was laid over till the next regular meeting for the third and final reading.

COMPULSORY INSURANCE BILL INTRODUCED

MEASURE BASED ON REPORT OF STATE INSURANCE COMMISSION CONSIDERED IN LEGISLATURE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—A constitutional amendment was introduced to-day leaving to the people the advisability of a state system of compulsory insurance against sickness, based on the findings of the state insurance commission that the incomes of a majority of the wage earners are not sufficient to tide over times of sickness. The commission does not want labor unions or fraternal insurance societies eliminated. The amendment provides that the cost of this insurance shall be 3.33 per cent. of the wage. The commission leaves the division of cost between the workman, the employer and the state to the legislature. In case of sickness the laborer would receive two-thirds of his wages and all hospital, medical, drug and dental costs for himself and dependents.

FEARFUL SIGHT

CHRIST STAKED HIS REPUTATION ON PROPHECY OF LAST DAYS

Christ staked his reputation as a divine being upon his ability to control nature, according to Evangelist Celia Andross, who spoke at Evangel hall, 115 South San Fernando road, last night on "Nature's Testimony to Christ." Tonight at 7:45 Evangelist Philip L. Knox is to speak on "Christ's Death Foreseen by Prophets." The song service will begin at 7:15. Stereopticon views will be shown.

"Satan has more successfully deceived human beings than he did the angels of heaven," said Mr. Andross last night, "for he took with him only a third of the heavenly host, while a much larger percentage of men and women are worshipping idols or worshipping nature as a God. Rightly understood, nature testifies of her Creator.

"God created the world by Jesus Christ, as we read in Hebrews 1:1,2. This was part of the eternal purpose of God; not a hastily conceived idea. Not only was this world made by Christ, but the entire universe is his creation. John 1: 1-4 gives us this fact, and the record of the creation as given in Genesis 1:26 shows that while Christ was the agent in bringing the universe into existence, God and Christ worked together. 'Let us make man in our image,' was the word God spoke to his Son as they counseled over their plans.

"But did the world slowly evolve through long ages? The Bible tells us in Psalms 33: 6-9 that 'He spake and it was done, he commanded and it stood fast.' Christ's word brought into being that which was non-existent. If Christ spoke the world into existence why is it not as reasonable to believe that he did the work in six days, as the Bible says, as to think that the creation took millions of years?

"The Creator of the world is also its sustainer. Though in rebellion against him, man has life merely because the Creator chooses to sustain that life. But the time will come when God will refuse to sustain longer the life which refuses to accept his offers of mercy, and continues in rebellion against him.

"Christ's first miracle, turning the water into unfermented wine, showed that he had power over matter. When he fed the five thousand with five loaves and two small fishes, he was permitting men to see with their own eyes how the heavens and the earth were created. If Christ could create food in man's sight, why could he not also have created the whole world by the breath of his mouth in the same way.

"When the leper was healed, Christ said, 'I will, be thou clean.' Immediately the man was made physically perfect. We are all full of the leprosy of sin, a disease which we of ourselves cannot cure. But when Christ speaks the word we are cleansed from our sin. The same being who created the world by his word, and who still sustains it by his power, is able to uphold in a life of righteousness those who yield to him, as well as to free them from sin.

"Christ showed the power of his word when he raised to life Jairus' daughter, the son of the widow Nain and Lazarus. In walking upon the water he demonstrated his power over the force of nature we call gravity. In cursing the fig tree Christ withdrew the life-giving power he had been extending to that tree. All nature yielded implicit obedience to Christ, thus testifying to his divinity.

"Christ staked his reputation on the statement of Luke 21:11 that in the last days there would be fearful sights and great signs from heaven. In Matthew 24:29 he gave the exact time in history when the sun would be supernaturally darkened during the day time and the moon would not give her light. He placed these phenomena between events which occurred in 1776 and 1789, and we find the dark day of history to have been May 19, 1780. The being who did all this also said of the generation now living that it should not pass away until all would be fulfilled and the culmination of these events is Christ's own personal appearing."

The meetings at Evangel hall will continue all next week.

HOMER FUNERAL SATURDAY

RECEPTION TO PASTOR

MEMBERS OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH WELCOME REV. COLE AND FAMILY

There was a large gathering at the Christian church last evening, the occasion being the formal reception to the new pastor, Elder Clifford A. Cole. The auditorium was beautifully decorated with flowers, the color scheme being violet and orange, smilax and potted plants. The new furnace worked beautifully and the room was very comfortable.

A. B. Heacock presided in his usual dignified, easy manner and all went off happily. Most of the brother ministers of this city were present. Also Brother Rogers, secretary of the Southern California Missionary Society of the Christian church. Mrs. G. M. Anderson, president of the C. W. B. M., Elder Cole's aged parents and other honored guests.

After an eloquent, heartfelt prayer by Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, there was a beautiful song by a double quartet, followed by a solo by Mrs. John Cole, in which her lovely voice entranced all. Then Rev. Mottern, president of the Glendale Ministerial Federation, welcomed Brother Cole to the city and to the Federation, assuring him of cordial fellowship and brotherly assistance. Then our own Roger Baker rendered a violin solo which was so heartily encored that he had to respond. Then Miss Forrest, in graceful words full of lofty sentiment of loyalty and trust, welcomed Brother Cole in behalf of the women of the church, after which in blunt, honest words, straight from his loyal, Christian soul, F. C. Herron bespoke the welcome of the men of the church. A brilliant piano solo by Mrs. Art Dibbern followed. This was encored.

F. M. Rogers, in behalf of the ministers and churches of Southern California, gave earnest greeting and promise of comradeship in the work, and Mrs. Anderson gave a like welcome from the C. W. B. M.

To all these words of love and cheer and goodwill Elder Cole then responded in brief speech full of feeling, replete with humor and overflowing with love and goodwill.

Rev. Edmonds then gave a spicy little talk in his usual happy vein, after which there was a beautiful solo by Mrs. J. H. Orth.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were then served and during the disposal of these brief talks were made by W. B. Kirk, Mrs. C. E. Hutton, Sunday school superintendent, Mrs. Robert Jackson and Elder N. J. Wright. Mrs. Hutton's address was in rhyme, gracefully worded and full of love for the boys and girls.

RAINBOW SHOWER

Thursday evening Miss Vera McPherson of 1516 Pioneer drive entertained the "Lucky Thirteen Girls" and other guests at a linen shower in honor of Miss Janie Ray of 107 North Kenwood street. Miss Ray is to become the bride of Mr. J. A. McKelvy of Los Angeles on February 3, and is one of the most popular members of the "Lucky Thirteen," a club composed of the girl graduates of the class of '13 from the Glendale high school. A daintily appointed three-course luncheon was served by the accomplished young hostess, a rainbow color scheme being carried out in the decorations. There was a large rainbow in the center of the table and underneath a pot of gold, which held the many exquisite linen gifts for the guest of honor. The dainty place cards were hand-painted rainbows with a pot of gold suspended from the end. At the conclusion of the luncheon the table was cleared and the bride-to-be opened her gifts, which were many and beautiful. The Lucky Thirteen girls present included Misses Katherine Hobbs, Dorinda Haviland, Lois Candee, Dorothy Morgan, Ruth Williams, May Church, Gladys Anderson, Gladys Hamilton, Alice Gray Beach, Eveyn Kent and Miss Vera Holloway, the chaperone. The other guests were Miss Lura Hibben, Mrs. J. M. Ray and Miss Martha Ray, and Mr. McKelvy came later in the evening. Dancing, singing and games concluded the pleasures of a very happy evening.

Athletics

On Friday, Jan. 18, the Intermediate basketball team journeyed to the Los Angeles Normal School and encountered the strong training school team of that institution. Although the final score stood 21-31 in favor of the training school five, the game was closely contested throughout. An indoor court proved a hindrance to the Glendale team. Jimmy Anderson, Robert Pauly and James McGowan showed up especially well. The lineup:

Training school: Kindrelow, forward; Moje, forward; Allen, center; Hardenberg, guard; McCarthy, guard. Intermediate: Jordan, forward; Hennon, forward; Anderson, center; Pauly, guard; McGowan, guard.
A hard fought game ending in the undecided score of 14-14 was staged Tuesday between the basketball teams of the High School Freshmen and the Intermediate school. The Intermediate team was composed of the following players: Price, Acosta, Anderson, Pauly and McGowan.

NEW THOUGHT

At Glendale New Thought center "Communion" was the subject of the Sunday evening lecture given by Dr. Riley with New Thought interpretations. He said in part: "Dwell in the secret places of the most high" if you desire to commune with your father in heaven, eating the bread and drinking the wine as symbols of the body and blood of Christ. Bread is the staff of life, the manna that fell from heaven, and wine is the symbol of divine inspiration, the refreshing drink to the thirsty soul for knowledge and understanding. "Heaven is within." Deep down in the human soul is the divine germ or spark image and likeness of God. This has been clothed about with physical form that God might know himself in denser substance. The shedding of blood for the remission of sins, putting off the old man Adam (the red man) does not mean to destroy the physical symbol, the mortal man, but to transmute the grosser physical man, the flesh and blood form, into finer qualities of substance that the real man may come in conscious union with the father through the Christ spirit. The God man is the expression of universal mind that is ever manifesting in demonstrations of good. New Thought is the old made new. As far back as we have any records this same truth was taught through symbols. Mrs. Adeline Becker of Los Angeles will have charge of the services Sunday evening of this week. The subject of her lecture will be "Intellect the Servant." Services begin promptly at eight o'clock p. m. Sunday school at 10 o'clock a. m. Bible class for adults at 11 o'clock a. m. You are cordially invited to hear this expression of the truth at the center, Masonic temple, 532 South Brand boulevard.

ODD FELLOWS' OYSTER SUPPER

The Odd Fellows of Glendale treated themselves and a few of their friends to an old fashioned oyster supper in their hall at the corner of Isabel and Third street Thursday evening. Those attending this sociable event assembled in the reception room of the cosy home of this enterprising order, and it was not long until all were engaged at various games such as billiards, cards, checkers and crokinole.

During this period Richard Roberts, the Glendale market meat cutter, wearing a long white apron, was preparing the oyster stew which he announced was ready for serving at about 9:15 o'clock. Mr. Roberts proved himself some cook, and in case his cooking affected the guests seriously he had present a physician, two undertakers and a newspaper reporter to take care of the case in all stages of the difficulties. Only the grave digger was absent. But Mr. Roberts had done his work so well that it was not necessary to give employment to any of the professionals.

Dr. H. C. Smith served as toast-master of the evening, and although he said he was not prepared to act in that capacity he proved himself very capable. Rev. Snudd, pastor of the M. E. church, gave an address on the subject "What a Man on the Outside Thinks of Odd Fellowship" and Rev. Norton spoke on the subject of "What a Man on the Inside Knows About Odd Fellowship."

There were numerous other short addresses by members and visitors. All speakers spoke kindly of the order of Odd Fellows and advised those who are not now members to become members at the earliest possible time. Mr. Goss was present with his violin and did some very much appreciated fiddling. Elwood Ingledue also played a number of selections on the violin.

READING CIRCLE MEETS

The reading circle met at the Pacific avenue school Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock to continue the study of "The Education of the Boy." When this book is finished they will then study "The Education of the Girl." Mrs. Zetta Gibbons read a number of interesting Bible stories and games which she reserves for Sunday afternoons. She showed several interesting magazines, the National Geographical magazine being the best for the whole family. The wrong sense of humor as evidenced in the funny papers published was discussed. There were twenty ladies present, four of whom were from East Glendale.

CIVIC RECREATION CENTER

Don't forget to attend the great free stereopticon lecture tonight at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium. Rev. Dana Bartlett will speak on civic recreation centers. The chairman is Dr. Jessie Russell. The movement for a civic recreation center is daily gaining impetus and a large attendance is expected.

STUDIES IN PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

By Walt. Le Noir Church
STUDY IX—WHAT IS ABILITY?

Searching for Ability needed in certain lines of efficiency for mental salesmanship and clerical specialties employed by Snow, Church & Co. in most large cities throughout the country during a series of years, I naturally had a few unusual experiences. Some may be interesting to certain employers and employees also, who can accept Holy Writ's suggestion by implication, that the hand is the physical agent of the soul, and therefore can do only that for which the soul has fitted it.

Would you select a meat axe to shave with, or a safety razor to cleave through thick thigh bones? Nature is not mocked, either.

Costly experience taught me that the hand, particularly the thumb, was a better index to the kind of ability I was seeking than was the face, which may train itself to wear an invisible but successfully deceptive veil.

The hand has not learned to wear any invisible glove which can mislead one as to its ability.

So when we advertised for agents to do certain things, a glance at the thumb would tell me whether its owner was worth further consideration; because, to a certain extent, the tale of the thumb needs corroboration.

However, a certain type of thumb was never chosen for one special service, but was always selected for another desk requiring a very different kind of efficiency.

Thereby, we attained to much better results, and prevented many a valuable employee from losing the job, vainly trying to fit a really good square peg into a perfectly good round hole (the cause of most earthly trouble).

We were continuously on guard to prevent failure in an employee because of three quite common disabilities for one position, which might be successful to a marked degree in some other equally important position. We considered every position important, from porter to president. When any position ceased to be important to us it immediately ceased to exist.

But as to those three "hoodoo" characteristics:

1. A little learning is a dangerous thing—unless employed just where that particular bit of learning is needed. There it succeeds.

2. The employee who knows so much that is not true. A dangerous agent unless kept in place as an understudy till he knows better what is true.

Such a character is always a student to a degree, and one who thinks he knows how to think. In any event he is trying to climb, an effort always to be encouraged.

3. The employee who is best described as sagacity on the wrong scant; the faster he goes, the farther he strays.

He also has "the makings" of a valuable efficient—with certain qualities in common with number 2, besides enough of his own or her own to make a success under right conditions.

The more we investigate the subject, ability, the more complicated and comprehensive it appears.

What might one expect less in the first essential of personality, the paramount achievement of the individual seeker after practical success in this life.

(It might not be a bad guess to suggest that personality may have much to do with success in the life to come.)

So if you would acquire ability, "be knowledgeable," as our friend from Tipperary might suggest, but not so much so that you will consider "G. W.'s little hatchet" out of date.

Though personified evil still pays "good gold for souls," no one can prove that "Christ or His saints sleep in this country."

Among beautiful old Irish legends is one of Connla's Well. It was "under the sea" in the land of youth in fairyland. That is the well from which spring forth wisdom and inspirations and evergreen plants, on which in the same hour foliage, blossoms and all fruitage appear. The lovely well of Connla is in every soul, and in its fair depths are all the secrets that make for ability.

A few of those secrets take homely expression.

You must ever be an understudy to your next superior.

You should ever do things outside of your employment—that is, the proper things; avoiding any illustration of "sagacity on the wrong scent."

Piece-work efficiency is good—so far as it goes. But if trained for one job only, you will be handicapped by the limitations of that job. Success also has its limitations.

You need to think beyond your specific work—else when the rain of promotion falls, your plate may still be turned bottom upwards.

Concentrate if you would achieve ability.

Tell me on what you concentrate, and I will tell you what you are; what you can do; what you cannot do.

You may have concentration without ability; but you can never have ability without concentration.

Discrimination in concentration is a fine art.

Last of all, remember this: While God gave you intelligence, you must achieve ability for yourself.

King Solomon said: "With all thy gettings, get understanding," the other name of ability.

GLEANERS SOCIAL

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Bartow entertained the Gleaners class of the West Glendale M. E. church at their home at 1444 West Third street on Thursday evening when a very delightful social time was enjoyed. The monthly business meeting of the Gleaners occupied a brief time at the beginning of the evening, H. C. Joy, the new president of the class, presiding and making a very clever little speech. Chas. W. Bartow had been the president of the class for the past four years. The Bartow home was very effectively decorated with acacia and marigolds and the hostess had arranged some new and novel games which caused much merriment. An auction game, in which an assortment of bundles containing some attractive and some amusing articles were auctioned off for beans by Rev. Norcross, who showed considerable ability as an auctioneer. A molasses candy chewing contest, an electric guessing game and other games were conducive of much fun and laughter. A number of musical selections were also enjoyed. Mrs. David Johnson, who is an accomplished musician, gave two piano selections and a trio composed of Rev. Norcross and Messrs. E. H. Henderson and H. C. Joy, sang. All of the guests came wearing some emblem representing an old hymn or song or something musical which the other guests found a good deal of interest in guessing. Ice cream and cake were served by the hostess and the guests departed regretfully toward midnight, having enjoyed a very merry and delightful evening.

"To what do you attribute your remarkable age and your wonderful health?" asked the summer boarder of the aged farmer.

"Wal," answered the bucolic one, "I reckon I got a pretty good start on most people by bein' born afore germs was discovered, an' so I have had less to worry about."

"Those Germans are certainly efficient," said father at the breakfast table.

"How so? How?" asked mother. "Why," said father, "I see they have put the whole question of the food supply into the hands of the Minister of the Interior."

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Saturday. High northerly winds.

The school house is nearing completion and the boys and girls are rejoicing over the fact of soon being able to study in such a modern building with all the conveniences of a higher institution.

Mrs. Edwards, mother of Mrs. Will Hood, is at her daughter's home on Indiana street, where she has been confined to her bed for several weeks. But she is now recovering.

A number of young people attended the Alumni Vaudeville given at Glendale Palace Grand Theater last week. It was grand and everyone enjoyed it to the uttermost.

Mr. Starr Barnum, eldest son of Mr. Barnum, is spending his vacation with his parents at their home on Fairview avenue. Mr. Barnum is an engineer at a lumber camp in the north.

The men that own property on Texas and Roy streets met at Hubert Bentley's home Tuesday evening to discuss the choosing and planting of ornamental trees on these respective streets. After the men had finished their business and were just about ready to return to their homes, the door bell rang. Mr. Bentley went to the door, and was so surprised to see a body of women standing in the door. The wives of the various men had been invited by Mrs. Hubert Bentley to come up and surprise their husbands. They certainly carried out the plan and succeeded in keeping a secret from their husbands. A very pleasant time was spent in chatting and music. Mrs. Bentley later in the evening served dainty refreshments.

Mr. Ellis is making several improvements around his beautiful home on Michigan avenue. Sidewalks are one of the added attractions.

The Improvement Association held their regular meeting Saturday evening. There was a rather small crowd because of the cold weather. The same officers that have served for the past year were re-elected. They are as follows: President, Mr. E. H. Brooks; vice-president, Mr. P. H. Johnson; secretary, Mr. Granger; treasurer, Mr. McMullin. The meeting adjourned, since no program was prepared. Mr. E. H. Brooks was to give the address of the evening, but was unable to attend because of illness. It is hoped a large number of people will be present at the next meeting, which will occur on February 3, 1917.

The Christian Endeavor meeting was well attended last Sunday evening. Miss Rowena Green was the leader. The topic was: "Seeing the Good in Others." Phil. 2:1-11. It was a very interesting meeting.

The Christian Endeavor Society will take for their topic Sunday evening, "Fruits of the Christian Endeavor Tree." Rev. 22:1-5. (Christian Endeavor Day.) Edwin Cooper is to be the leader.

Dr. F. W. Jackson of Jefferson, Maine, was guest of Mr. H. L. Cooper and family Wednesday. Dr. Jackson was quite infatuated with the valley and if we only had a hotel or some rooming house, Dr. Jackson would undoubtedly have spent the winter right here.

A large delegation from La Canada attended the meeting of the Board of Supervisors last Monday morning. The bridge question was discussed pro and con. The question will be made a special order of business for next Monday morning. It is thought that the bridge will soon be open, at least for fruit haulers.

On Monday and Tuesday of next week, the 29th and 30th of January, a representative of the Tri-City Progress will call at the homes of residents of the La Canada valley whose subscriptions for the paper are due. It is hoped that the money or a check for the amount of subscription will be waiting the arrival of our representative. It means an additional expense to make these from house-to-house calls, but this expense will be largely reduced if all who owe are prepared to pay. The date of the expiration of your subscription is stamped on the upper left margin of the paper.

TROPICO GRAMMAR GRADUATION

The graduating class of the Tropico grammar school received their diplomas last night when commencement exercises were held in the auditorium of the Glendale High school. J. B. Lil'ard, principal of the Gardena high school, made a very fine address to the graduating class, and C. R. Carmack, one of the trustees of the Tropico grammar school, presented the diplomas with a few appropriate remarks. A very enjoyable musical program was given, the high school orchestra playing two selections in a very creditable manner. Mrs. Alma K. Moss, the contralto of Trinity Auditorium church in Los Angeles, who has a marvelously sweet contralto voice, gave three solos which were enthusiastically received and encored, her lullaby, "Sleep, Baby Sleep," being especially beautifully rendered. Mrs. C. F. Dohrman, the well known soprano of Los Angeles, also gave three vocal selections that were charmingly rendered and heartily encored. Bernice Adams, a pupil of the Tropico grammar school, who will graduate in the spring, gave a few short readings from Riley in a very pleasing manner. The class colors were violet and white and the young girl graduates looked very pretty in their white middieys with violet hair ribbons and middiey ties. "Duty before pleasure" was the class motto, which has evidently been lived up to by the eight graduates, who are Louise Benoist, Gladys Gaarder, Henrietta Heide, Leona Hibbert, Arthur Eyraud, James Hamilton, Buford Medlan and Calvin Spalding. Prof. Robert L. Kennedy is the principal of the Tropico grammar school.

CAPTIVE SOAP

This is supposed to be a free country. And yet look at our soap. Is it free? No!

But it used to be. Yes, soap used to be free. It lived in a dish and led a wild, glorious, independent life in hotels and sleeping cars. It was at liberty to come and go (and frequently did, hotel men tell us) with any traveler it took a fancy to. Or it could stay home and float in the washbowl.

Today soap is a captive. It is locked up in dark, cavernous slot machines, with a price on its head. Or else it's chained to a wall and left to swing sadly to and fro. Or it's reduced to a limp liquid and hung around in bottles, looking more like a cross between pea soup and sa'ad dressing than its old familiar self. In any case it is bound by a cordon of push buttons, knobs, cranks and levers which, in its crushed and bewildered condition it can never hope to break through.

Even in private life soap is no longer free. It used to be soap's delight to swim in the dishpan, but today it is driven into a little cage, shaken around in the water awhile and put back on the shelf to mope.

THE MAN HE LEFT BEHIND

An English storekeeper went to the war and left his clerk behind to look after things. When he was wounded and taken to the hospital, what was his surprise to find his clerk in the cot next to him.

"Well, I thought I left you to take care of the store," said the storekeeper.

"You did," answered the clerk, "but you didn't tell me I had to look after your women folks as well as the store. I stood it as long as I could and then I said to myself: 'Look, here, if you've got to fight, you might as well go and fight someone that you can hit.'"

SAVE DAYLIGHT THIS SUMMER

(By United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—A plan to set the clocks of the United States ahead an hour May 1 to save daylight until September 30 will be considered by the Daylight Saving National convention which begins here Monday.

"This plan," said Borough President Marcus M. Marks of New York, who fathered the idea in this country, "which was so successfully used in Europe last year, would save the United States $90,000,000 in artificial light and fuel alone."

"This plan has been heartily endorsed by leading commercial bodies in Chicago, Pittsburg, New York, Rochester, Detroit, Cleveland and elsewhere."

"The plan is simply that between May 1 and September 30, when daylight comes so early, we set the clocks of the country an hour ahead. That gets the country to work an hour earlier and permits it to quit while it is still broad daylight, thus obviating the necessity for so much artificial light."

"To this national convention the Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade throughout the country, governors of all states, the mayors of over 150 cities, the governor general of Canada and other Canadian representatives, the American Bankers' association, the American Railway association, the American Federation of Labor and various other commercial and financial labor and scientific associations have been invited to send delegates and responses already received indicate an exceedingly large attendance.

"Such leading men as Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan & Company; Otto T. Bannard, president of the New York Trust company; Frederick D. Underwood, president of the Erie Railroad; Frank Trumbull, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad; and Arthur Lehman of Lehman Bros., bankers, favor its adoption in the United States."

"I call attention to the great benefits which would accrue to the general health of the working people through the added hour for recreation which would be afforded."

"There is a bill before congress by Representative Borland for this daylight saving plan which we hope to have made a law."

HAD TO BE INTRODUCED TWICE

While Mabel was watching her mother making a pie, she was told it was lemon meringue. Half an hour later she came back and asked: "What was that pie's last name?"

A POOR DIPLOMAT

"I think the one you refused is much the more attractive of the two."

"I admit that, but when he proposed he went into ecstasies over how happy I could make him; but the one I accepted spoke earnestly of how happy he would try to make me."
